

I am NOT in favor of the FCC overriding the Indiana law concerning the present Indiana "no call" list. Since we put our name on that list we have received no (0) calls of that type. Prior to placing our name on the list, we were getting 6 to 10 calls per week. Most of these calls came in the evening either during dinner or during our family time. Therefore any loosening of the rules less than the Indiana law presently I would strongly oppose.
